

your work & life » WORKS FOR US! BY MARILYN...

A last-minute work trip means grabbing and packing heels, flats and sneakers. Instead of just shoving staked (strange-soled) shoes into your carry-on, store them in Shoes on the Fly bags to keep your footwear as organized as your business—and your clothes clean. (From $19 each, shoesonthe-fly.com)

Add Flint to your list of desk drawer essentials. The lint roller retracts into its lightweight travel bag, so it won't pick up every crumb or piece of lint in your drawer. Plus, it stays up to help you work who never you need to brush breakfast crumbs off your morning before a morning meeting. (From $12, www.flint.com)

Tea sippers often get short shrift compared with coffee drinkers when it comes to a quality brew on the go. So we're happy to see the portable Steeped Tea Pop Top Tumbler, which comes with its own reusable infuser and is vacuum sealed so you can enjoy hot, loose-leaf brewed tea from car to office. Available in a variety of colors ($40, steepedtea.com)

Candles on your desk? You bet, especially when they're as motivationally inclined as these from the 125 Collection. The natural soy, lead-free-wick candles offer give-it-to-you-straight quotes that remind you to "trust your dopeness" or "wake up, kick ass, be kind, repeat." We'll do both. ($32, the125collection.com).

APP CHAT Not only does organizing app House Monkey let you assign and notify everyone at home about chores, tasks and events, but it also automatically adds home-maintenance tasks to your schedule—like reminding you to change your HVAC filters or check up on a large appliance. Scan in your warranties, user manuals, service contracts and receipts; this app tracks it all ($29 per year, monkeytribelife.com).
